

I am for the allowance of electronic testimony by a witness under the circumstances listed in this proposed Regulation. With electronic testimony as an option, the process of one giving their testimony can be made easier and more convenient than having to appear in person. In the current economic state that we live in the average person can not afford to miss a day of work without pay, nor does that individual want to and would ultimately choose their daily life being uninterrupted over giving a witness testimony rather than the choice of if they will give it at all. The option to choose is what makes the proposed regulation needed.

Thanks,

Leonard Bentley
